

USING ENGLISH IN...

BEAUTY THERAPY

WHAT YOU'LL NEED TO KNOW...

- Connecting with your client base on email or social media, you will want your messages and communications to be accurate and well put together.
- Carrying out consultations and filling in record cards.
- Booking appointments, taking clients' details.
- Giving your client written homecare advice.
- Reading instructions on products and equipment.
- Reading through manufacturers' instructions and safety information.
- Creating an eye-catching piece of marketing or advertising for your business needs to be spot on with your spelling and grammar.

Without these skills you could be limiting your opportunity to progress in your career.

Beauticians and related workers who give facial and body beauty treatments can earn an average of £17,817 per year.

A beauty salon manager can take home up to £26,062 gross salary per year

*these figures are a national guide only

So don't miss out on your GCSE and functional skills English classes identified on your timetable.

USING MATHS IN...

BEAUTY THERAPY

WHAT YOU'LL NEED TO KNOW...

- Working out your daily commission for money taken on treatments and products sold.
- Working out your diary and what times you will complete treatments ready for your next client.
- You will need to be accurate with ratios when measuring and mixing face masks.
- Working out clients bills, handling money and giving change.

Without these skills you could be limiting your opportunity to progress in your career.

Beauticians and related workers who give facial and body beauty treatments can earn an average of £17,817 per year.

A beauty salon manager can take home up to £26,062 gross salary per year

*these figures are a national guide only

So don't miss out on your GCSE and functional skills maths classes identified on your timetable.