

Over the past two years I have learnt how to be confident as well as learning all about the different aspects within the different professionals' roles. I've discovered that everyone in this sector has to follow different legislation so that the patient is receiving the best care.

I have big problems with settling into new places due to my panic attacks but, with the tutors they made me feel so welcome it made my transition from school to college easier. The thing I loved about the course is the motivation the teachers gave as well as making long lasting relationships with them and my friends

My next positive step is to go and study nursing at Nottingham University.
